
Effective: March 1, 1992

96.00 Utility Accommodation

96.30 Freeways

Supersedes: Initial Issue

96.33 Existing Utilities

By: Director, Bureau of Highway OperationsPage 1 of 1

When a utility already exists within the right-of-way of a proposed freeway and it can be serviced, maintained and operated without access from the freeway traffic lanes or ramps, it may remain as long as it does not adversely affect the safety, design, construction, operation, maintenance, or stability of the freeway. Otherwise, it shall be relocated.